PROJECTS

Dimosphere (03/2024 - Present)

- I've developed a personal web application where clients and companies can learn more about me and explore all my previous projects.
- Currently in the process of implementing an authentication system and a shop section where clients can share their ideas and make online payments for their projects.
- Decided to combine the advantages of both SSR (Server-Side Rendering) and SPA (Single Page Application) approaches. For this, I've chosen to develop it using Next.js.
- Tech Stack Overview: Nextjs

Bella Apartment (02/2024 - 02/2024)

- First freelance project, its a website for commercial uses.
- Successfully achieved the goals of the client. Securing free hosting, managing within a limited budget, and optimizing SEO.
- Tech Stack Overview : Javascript, HTML, CSS.

Racefanatic mobile app (11/2023 - 02/2024)

- The SoftUni internship program consists of a team 3 front-end developers, 2 back-end developers, and one team leader. Together, they are crafting Bulgaria's first mobile app for motor sport events.
- We are still fine-tuning it; it will soon be available on the Play Store and the App Store.
- Tech Stack Overview : MEAN stack with Ionic.

Auto Explorer (12/2023 - 12/2023)

- Aiming to achieve full points and ensure a successful defense of my React.js project at SoftUni.
- The project is an application where users can list cars for sale along with their specifications, while providing customers the ability to search for vehicles based on their specific criteria.
- Tech Stack Overview : React.js

Travel Forum (08/2023 - 08/2023)

- Aiming to achieve full points and ensure a successful defense of my Angular project at SoftUni.
- It's an app where users can upload and share cool destinations to travel, inspiring others with their experiences and recommendations.
- Tech Stack Overview : Angular

Wizard creatures (10/2023 - 10/2023)

- SSR project including auth system and CRUD operations.
- Part of preparation for the final exam on JS back-end
